

John Dillon, Vice President Business Development & Smart Solutions

John Dillon was named ESCO's Vice President of Business Development & Smart Solutions in 2017 with responsibility over the commercialization and continued expansion of our Smart Solutions technology. In this leadership role, John provides oversight for the Materials Development program and Technology Development projects.

In 2015 John served on special assignment as ESCO's Vice President of Technical Support. He has held various positions throughout his 35+ years with the company, including Chief Metallurgist, Technical Director and other leadership roles within our Engineering group.