

Mike Funke
Vice President, Supply Chain

Mike Funke has more than 20 years' experience in supply chain, operations, strategic planning and lean implementation. He first joined legacy ESCO in 2011, with a primary role in enterprise-level continuous improvement and the advancement of our ESCO Business System (EBS). In 2015 Mike returned to supply chain where he incorporated lean tools and a customer-focused approach as the company's supply chain planning director.

Mike has led the global supply chain organization since September of 2016, and significantly improved the development, coordination, and implementation of divisional global supply chain strategic initiatives. Most notable are the improved client-customer relationships across our global regions, a direct result of Mike's collaborative leadership style.
