

Steve Duea
Vice President, Human Resources

In 2013 Steve Duea joined ESCO as Vice President of Human Resources of the newly created Mining Division. By 2016, Steve assumed oversight of all regional human resources groups, in addition to corporate payroll, benefits and communications. Steve's significant contributions and focus on building strong organizational capability through the talents and passion of our people, have enabled his teams to deliver on the people development practices and processes globally, while retaining regional elements needed to be locally competitive. With his professional roots established as a manufacturing supervisor, Steve is passionate about building effective two-way communication between front-line leaders and employees. Prior to joining ESCO in 2013, Steve served more than 15 years in manufacturing and HR leadership roles with PCC Structural, Pentair, and Harley Davidson.
